C. reached the lighthouse all right and then he also saw a snark and chartered the Undine to take him back.

The piles for the Healani aquatic trapeze will be driven next week. A new spring-board will also be erected.

At a meeting of the club, held this week, eight new members were elected and two resignations acted upon. Captain A. L. C. Atkinson was authorized to have the Henley boat fixed up. Twenty-five dollars was appropriated to put the Undine in proper repair.

The minstrel committee have sent to the Coast for a boatload of songs and gags for the coming entertainment.

A piano has been sent down to the boathouse for practice. Albert Cunha has written a song for the occasion called "The Healani Girl," which is already being widely whistled. The club has appropriated $50 to start the black-face fund.

Additional towels and tights have been purchased for the benefit of the bathers. THE RESIDENCE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY

TENNIS AT OAHU.

The Tournament Goes Merrily

THE tennis tournament at Oahu College has been progressing rapidly during the last week. The ladies' singles and doubles, and the gentlemen's doubles, have been played off, and the mixed doubles is the only class now left undecided.

Miss Hessie Lemon won the ladles championship for 1901, greatly to the satisfaction of all. Miss Lemon has been in several tournaments, but she never managed to see the last gun fired until the present year. Although not up to her past form, she plays earnest ly, and with a vim, now and then playing championship ball.

Miss Lemon's hardest match was, as was expected, with Miss Angus. Unluckily, they came together in the first round. Miss Angus started in britliantly, and after some good rallying won the set, 6-4. Miss Lemon now braced, and by excellent driving won the second set, 6-1. In the third set Miss Angus lost her nerve, and Miss Lemon cinched the match by winning the third set, 6-1.

Miss Lyman was Miss Lemon's opponent in the final, but she proved no match for the champion, who won easily in two sets, 6-1, 6-1. Castle and Carnavarro won the gen-tlemen's doubles in a walk. They were not pressed in any match, and won as they pleased. The most exciting match of the tournament was played between Brown-Galbraith and Marcellino-Spalding. Although the playing was poor, it was close and exciting, the match going to the latter, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2.

The scores in the gentlemen's doubles

Preliminary Round-Judd and Walk-er won from Hapai and Dickson by default.

First Round—Judd and Walker lost to Castle and Carnavarro, 4-6, 1-6
Brown and Galbraith lost to Spalding and Marcellino, 1-6, 6-2, 2-6, Brother-hood and Damon won from H. Castle and Lansing, 6-2, 6-3. Meyers and Rycroft won from Cruzan and Perry, 6-1,

Semi-Finals-Castle and Carnavarro won from Marcellino and Spaiding, 6-Brotherhood and Damon won from Myers and Rycroft, 6-4, 6-3. Final-Castle and Carnavarro won-from Brotherhood and Damon, 6-0, 6-0,

The ladies' doubles resulted in an easy victory for the Misses Lemon and Lyman, for they won easily without the loss of a set. The scores in this tournament were as follows:

First Round—Misses Lemon and Lyman and Ly man won from Misses Angus and Spalding 6-1, 6-1. Misses Hall and Dodge won from Misses Brown and Hill by default. Final—Misses Lemon and Lyman won from Misses Hall and Dodge, 6-2,

The mixed doubles will probably be the most hotly contested of all the tournaments. There are several good teams, and it is almost impossible to pick the winners.

A. L. Castle and Miss Angus stand as good a chance as any. They have played together before, and should compete in the final round.

G. A. de S. Carnavarro and Miss Brown are another good team, and should furnish a rub to any team in Another strong combination is Judd and Miss Lemon. They play to-gether well. Miss Lyman and G. W. Hapai are also good players, and fine tennis will be forthcoming if any of these teams should meet. Th's game will be followed at 8:15 by
